their time, while the Government hero shows no disposition to entertain their projects. I think it is in the interest of all who are so occupied that they should know the truth, than be deluded by false hopes, and expectation of changes which are still far in the distance.

It seems to be forgotten that all Treaties hitherto made with China, have been such as were dictated by Foreign Powers, and in accordance with their views rather than those of the other contracting party. The revision at present in contemplation will take place under totally different circumstances. Nothing new can find place therein, which is directly contrary to Chinese views of their interests in relation with Foreign Powers. If the rulers of China cannot be made to see the advantage to themselves and the nation, as well as the practicability and safety of inland Steam Navigation, Railroads, and Telegraphic lines, or the working of mines, and residence of merchants in the interior with territorial privileges attaching, it is very certain they will not yield to any force of argument and reason, or earnestness of friendly counsel. And if these do not prevail, what other means remain, apart from the employment of force and means of coercion? But this would be to make the refusal to listen to our suggestions and demands for increased advantages a "costs belt." * * * So far as this ultimate ratio of Governments and nations is concerned, the United States of America could be no party after the signature of the "additional articles," and the assurances they contain. I cannot feel justified, in the present aspect of affairs, in holding out any hopes of material modification in the policy or disposition of the Chinese Government in regard to telegraphs, and other similar innovations on established customs and habits.

We have quoted the latter paragraph both for the sake of the evidence it affords as regards the utter "bunkum" of the "mission" now in Europe, and because it clearly describes the policy which the latest communications from the Foreign Office have laid down as that to be pursued in China. But as regards Sir Rutherford's connection with fathering the mission, there is but one of two conclusions to come to. Either he has turned his back upon his former beliefs and actions, or he was deceived—by whom it is needless to say. We almost incline to the latter opinion, in which case two professional diplomats were thoroughly taken in by a non-professional but much more clever man. It is some satisfaction to reflect that they have both, by their extreme candour, foiled the deceiver, who would have made them his tools. As things now stand, is not $80,000 per annum rather a heavy price to pay for the objects effected by the mission?

The application this morning, by the Crown for leave to appeal against the judgment on Crown defendant in Regina v. Saint, was refused by the Chief Justice. It is open to the prosecution, if it chooses to apply to the Privy Council for special leave. We will give a report of the "argument" to-morrow. The proceedings in the Police Court, in which Mr Pollard is also concerned, prevent our doing full justice to day to what we venture to believe is the final scene—in the Hongkong Supreme Court, except so far as costs are concerned—of Regina v. Saint. We shall take an early occasion to compliment Mr Pollard, Q.C., on the professional fact he has displayed in connection with this case.

LOCAL.

A Coroners' Inquest was held this afternoon upon the body of a man supposed to be the mate of the schooner, Gallia, the body having been found in the Harbor. The inquest was adjourned.

HIPPIE COMPETITION.

Subjoined are the Scores of the Handicap Race-Match shot off on Tuesday last, and won by Mr Hughes. The attendance was very good. Very fair scoring was made at 400 yards, but owing to a strong wind blowing across the 600 yards range, from the left, every poor shooting was made at that
